Story (要約問題)

In 2024, a big scandal happened in the Romanian presidential election. An unknown politician suddenly won the election. How did this happen? Many people believe AI manipulated the results through social media. This created a massive trend and influenced many voters' decisions. Later, the government discovered this secret operation. They canceled the results and announced that the election must be held again. This event shows us a scary reality. We might already be controlled by AI without realizing it.
